Little Girl and Her Dad

Little girl and her father were crossing a bridge.

The father was kind of scared so he asked his little daughter, 'Sweetheart, please hold my hand so that you don't fall into the river.'

The little girl said, 'No, Dad. You hold my hand.'

'What's the difference?' Asked the puzzled father?

'There's a big difference,' replied the little girl. 'If I hold your hand and something happens to me, there is a chance that I may let your hand go. But if you hold my hand, I know for sure that no matter what happens, you will never let my hand go.'

Moral of The Story:

In any relationship, the essence of trust is not in its bind, but in its bond. So hold the hand of the person who trusts you rather than expecting them to hold yours. This message is short......but carries a lot of feelings...
